

Uniface 4GL: Number of hits for progress bar

Number of hits for progress bar

Hi, The progress bar is a great idea however to use it you have to lose the advantage of a stepped hitlist. This is ok for a few hundred or even a thousand records but no good if there are a LOT of records. My wish is that uniface provide something like the equivalent of the sql 'select count(*)'. It could use the same profiles that the normal retrieve does but not return any records, just the count that match the selections. That count can then be used as the base for calculating the progress so far. Thanks, Colin Douglass
